

Apple Pickin's Newsletter

Nibbles & Bits

(A collection of noteworthy items, submitted by NWAP members)

Robert Moog, Creator of Music Synthesizer, Dies at 71

(From The New York Times on the Web, Tue 23 Aug 2005)

Robert Moog created the electronic music synthesizer that became ubiquitous among experimental composers and rock musicians.

<www.nytimes.com/2005/08/23/arts/music/23moog.html>

Web Site of the Month

(Bob Moffat)

If you need a chuckle to get you through the day, check out these two Mac-oriented comics:

<www.geekculture.com/joyoftech/index.html>

<www.pcweenies.org>

Older Computers - I Want Them!

(Marilynn Russell)

I recycle old computers and printers (both Mac & PC). I clean them up and give them to the needy. I have been able to help the mentally ill, battered women, street people who are trying to get their lives together, and the physically handicapped. Contact me for more details.

<marilynn@nwapplkrs.org>

Macromedia User Group

(Kathryn Whitacre)

I am writing this as the founder of a group, called "Greater Puget Sound Macromedia User Group". This is not a SIG, but a whole new group. Everyone in NWAP is invited to attend if they use Macromedia products which include, but are not limited to... Dreamweaver, Flash, Fireworks and Freehand, or they want to learn more about these products. There are lots more apps, but I wanted folks to get the idea that we deal with web graphic type programs. This group is sanctioned by Macromedia and we have a direct line to a representative there. We try to present information about Macromedia products at multiple levels; a little something for everyone. As the group is just beginning there are no demographics currently.

Please visit our site for more information and directions.

<www.gpsmmug.org>

TAPCUG SIGs

(Bob Moffat)

Many of these Special Interest Group sessions are of interest to both Mac and PC users. TAPCUG also meets in the same building where NWAP meets.

<www.tapcug.org>

What's Your Favorite Website

(Kathryn Whitacre)

Do you have someplace that you enjoy visiting? Tell us the address for the site and what they do. We'd also like to here why you like it. Send us the info.

<applkns@nwapplkrs.org>

The Mortvedt Center

(Kathryn Whitacre)

Bob Moffat and his staff of volunteers keep the Mortvedt Center busy every month as they help people with computer issues. They teach folks how to use their equipment (no matter what they have or their OS) Our thanks goes out to Bob, Marilyn Russell, Ted Junkin, and Eldon Estep. It is wonderful to belong to a group with so many people willing to help.

Where's Your Article

(Bob Morgan)

This is your newsletter, contribute to it! If you found a solution to a problem or discovered an easy way to do something after doing it the hard way, share it with the rest of us. After all, isn't that what a user group is for? You're not committed to writing a full page article, a short paragraph or two will be fine.

<applkns@nwapplkrs.org>